

DEMOCRATS WILL STAY IN PARTYTHIS IS THE PLAN THAT IS NOW BEING MADE BY LEADERS OF BOTH PARTIES.

LINE IS CLOSELY DRAWN

Expected That Democratic Leaders
Will Keep Their Party Within Their Own Ticket Limitations.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., July 30.—That Senator La Follette has in the past progressed through various campaigns without the support of a majority of the republican voters of Wisconsin, but by effecting a coalition of a minority of the republican voters with a substantial portion of the democratic voters is the basis of an apparent combination affected between W. D. Connor, manager of the Taft republican campaign, and leaders of the democratic party. It is a case of fighting La Follette with the same weapon which he has found mighty effective in past campaigns, and without which he would long ago have passed into retirement.

Today there is pretty certain indication that Mr. Connor and the democratic leaders have come to a recognition of the fact that their mutual interests lie in preserving to the utmost the integrity of the democratic party as a political organization in Wisconsin. The purpose of Mr. Connor is to accomplish the election of a United States senator and members of congress who will stand by the principles of the republican party and uphold the hands of President Taft. The purpose of the democratic leaders is to secure the election of a United States senator of their party faith. Both Mr. Connor and the democratic leaders seem to recognize that in the event of the election of Senator La Follette this state will continue to be represented by one who will try to discredit and destroy President Taft and prevent the fulfillment of the promises of the republican party in the present, and that, of course, also, there is no chance for a democratic United States senator. To this extent, Mr. Connor and the democratic party leaders have common interests. Neither can be successful if La Follette is allowed to control Wisconsin politically by the annihilation of a minority of the republican voters with a substantial number of democrats. A recent indication of the cooperation of Mr. Connor and the democrats is seen in the entrance of Congressman Welles in the senatorial race in opposition to his friend, Burt Williams of Ashland. It is said this action followed a Welles-Connor conference.

PYTHIANS INVADE
BADGER METROPOLISThousands Are Assembling in Milwaukee For Biennial Convention of the Supreme Lodge.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Milwaukee, Wis., July 30.—Milwaukee is today the Mecca of tens of thousands of the most prominent and representative citizens of the United States. From President Taft's "four corners of the country" and from cities and towns in all the vast territory intervening, the representatives of the Knights of Pythias are gathering for the biennial convention of the supreme lodge of the order and the encampment of the uniform ranks.

For over a year the local committee of reception and entertainment, composed of the most prominent and active knights in this jurisdiction, has been preparing for the advent of the mighty hosts that will sojourn in this city and suburbs during the next six days, and even this early the hundreds of strangers are willing to admit that the committee's work has been well done.

The decorations in honor of the convocation are superb. On every hand, over doors and windows, spanning the streets or flanking from tall staffs, are to be seen the helmeted knight and other emblematic designs, with a plentiful profusion of stars and stripes. The city hall and other public buildings, the hotels and large business houses and many private residences are handsomely adorned. Especially elaborate are the decorations of the Auditorium, which will be the scene of many of the chief social festivities in connection with the convention.

The arrival and registration of the visitors and the completion of the final details of the week's program will occupy tomorrow. The chief official action Monday will be the formal dedication of Camp Pariah Brown, a convalescent camp of nearly 3,000 tents which will accommodate many of the visiting members of the uniform ranks. The camp is located on a beautiful level stretch in the northwestern part of the city.

The feature of Tuesday's program will be the grand military parade in which about 15,000 uniformed knights will participate, marching through the principal streets of the city to the music of a score of bands, past the reviewing stand, where the commander in chief and his staff and the members of the supreme lodge will be stationed to view the inspiring spectacle. The parade of the subordinate lodges will take place Wednesday evening, following the same course taken by the military parade. A long list of prizes has been arranged for these events and for the competitive drills which will take place on the parade ground at the camp.

The purpose of the democratic leaders is to secure the election of a United States senator of their party faith. Both Mr. Connor and the democratic leaders seem to recognize that in the event of the election of Senator La Follette this state will continue to be represented by one who will try to discredit and destroy President Taft and prevent the fulfillment of the promises of the republican party in the present, and that, of course, also, there is no chance for a democratic United States senator. GLAD HE'S A DUKE ; DIDN'T WANT TO BE Saxe-Coburg and Gotha En fête Today Over 10th Anniversary of Accession of Popular Ruler.

Berlin, July 30.—A despatch from Gotha says that the ancient city was on fête today in celebration of the tenth anniversary of the accession of Charles Edward to the dual throne of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha. The youthful duke, who has just entered upon his twenty-sixth year, succeeded his uncle on the throne, July 30, 1900. Charles Edward is a son of the late Leopold, Duke of Albany, and nephew of King Edward VII. The story has often been told of his dis-appointment on learning that he had been selected to succeed his uncle, Alfred, as ruler of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha. The youthful Duke of Albany, which title he then bore, was a student at Eton when his uncle died, and was very reluctant to leave school in England and come to Germany. Apparently, however, he long since became reconciled to his new position. After completing his education at Bonn he took seriously to the duties of rulership and soon won for himself a warm place in the hearts of his subjects.

"BACK TO IRELAND" PROMOTERS SAIL

From New York for Queenstown Full Of Confidence As To Success Of Agitation.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, July 30.—Among the saloon passengers sailing for Queenstown today on the White Star liner Arcturion are Francis J. Kilkeny, president, and Joseph D. Sullivan, secretary of the Irish Home-Coming Association, the men who have developed the "back to Ireland" movement. They are going to Ireland to inspect the results of their efforts, the success of which has already been made evident by the departure from New York of this summer of 25,000 Irish-Americans on a pilgrimage to the old country. Prior to their departure today Messrs. Kilkeny and Sullivan ventured the prediction that before the summer is over more than 50,000 natives of Ireland who have found prosperous homes in America will revisit the land of their birth. It is hoped the movement originated in the United States will spread around the world, and that the well-to-do Irish of all lands will make pilgrimages to the mother country with the idea of investing money for the mutual benefit of themselves and the old home folks. With the investment of American capital in Irish industries will also come the introduction of American methods and machinery. If this idea becomes a reality an untold wealth will pour into the Emerald Isle and the wonders that it will perform are a matter that only the future can tell.

Common-Sense Psychology in Ad Copy

"When an advertising man has been in the business for some years, writing copy almost every day he gets to feel certain bed-rock, common-sense requirements of good copy that many of those who merely handle or theorize never seem to grasp," says J. H. Schumaker in Printers' Ink.
Practical advertising men are not apt to stop long to theorize, therefore it is hard to get them to write or tell about this common-sense criterion for copy. The very chaps who are so constantly writing about how to write good copy are seldom real, practical copywriters. There is something peculiarly psychological about copy-writing which brings success to the man who is least self-conscious and deliberate about it. The man who is constantly framing up general principles, or even the man who makes the most analytical and psychological effort while writing copy, is extremely liable to go astray and write strained and wooden stuff.
This is why the study of psychology in advertising, frequently, defeats its purpose. "A man who has had much contact with people and selling will have a far surer selective psychological instinct in preparing an advertising

The Why.
There is a belief that if you hang a bright, pretty picture in your room, and look at it earnestly every night and morning, your face will grow to resemble the one in the frame. This probably accounts for the fact that in almost every girl's room there is a picture of a Madonna.—Albion News.

BOOM PINCHOT FOR GOVERNOR.

Roosevelt Said to Look Kindly on Movement in New York.

New York, July 30.—Gifford Pinchot, former chief forester under Theodore Roosevelt, took place upon the list of possible candidates for the Republican nomination for governor of New York, and Theodore Roosevelt was asked to support his candidacy. Although the president is carefully suppressing everything which in any way resembles an outspoken declaration in favor of any candidate, it is believed that he does not look unkindly upon the latest boom.

Dr. Samuel McChes Lindsay, former commissioner of education of Porto Rico and now a professor of Columbia university, is the man who launched the new boom. He had a long and confidential talk with Colonel Roosevelt.

Colonel Roosevelt announced that his Indiana speech for Senator Beveridge would be delivered in Indianapolis, October 13.

GIRL DROWNS SAVING ANOTHER.

Expert Swimmer Meets Death at Chippewa Falls, Wis.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., July 30.—Miss Rose Gaul, seventeen years old, an expert swimmer, was seized with cramps and drowned in Glen Loch, north of this city, while attempting to rescue Lulu McDonald, fifteen years old, from drowning. A party of boy bathers pulled Miss McDonald ashore.

Port Wayne, Ind., July 30.—Jacob Schwab of this city was drowned at Buffalo, according to a message received here.

Savannah, Ga., July 30.—Two persons were drowned and several others had narrow escapes when a government launch used by the soldiers at Fort Scriven was sunk in Lazaretto creek, near the fort.

Albuquerque, N. M., July 30.—In a flood which swept through Gallup, N. M., Mrs. Juan Lebon, a Mexican woman, and two children were drowned. The flood followed a cloudburst in the mountains.

DEMENTED, KILLS 2, SHOOTS 3.

Granite Contractor, in Frenzy, Slays His Own Mother.

Quincy, Mass., July 30.—After killing two persons and wounding three others at whom he shot in an unexplained frenzy, Louis Restelli, a granite contractor, escaped and is at large. His mother, Mrs. Rose Restelli, sixty-five years old, and Henry E. Hardwick, aged fifty-six years, one of the most prominent granite manufacturers in this city, from whom Restelli rented his place of business, are dead. Gaspare Restelli, forty years old, brother of Louis, has three bullet wounds in his body and is not expected to live. Benjamin Bishop, also a granite manufacturer, is suffering from two bullet wounds, and C. Theodore Hardwick, brother of the dead man, will be crippled for life by a shattered knee-pan.

It is suggested that money troubles may have caused Restelli to become demented.

Miners Attack Gompers.
Denver, Col., July 30.—Members of the Western Federation of Miners attacked President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, declaring that his retirement would be the best thing that could happen for working people.

Have you looked over the Want Ads every day? Don't miss them for a day? There are opportunities there every day.

SAYS 1,000 PER CENT. IS GRAFT.

Car Clerk Sheds More Light on Illinois Central Frauds.

Chicago, July 30.—Bills rendered to the Illinois Central railroad by the Memphis Car company were paid to such an extent that the charge for repairing a car was increased 1,000 per cent., according to the testimony given by Frank W. Belmont, formerly chief clerk of the repair company, before Master in Chancery Rowell B. Mason.

The witness declared that Henry C. Ostermann and his associates in the car repair business had even gone so far as to substitute bills of the Ostermann Manufacturing company of West Pullman for those of the Memphis Car company and paste on the spurious papers the "O. K." of the Memphis inspector, cut from the original bills.

Deputy sheriffs are scouring Chicago in a search for Ostermann, who, it is thought, can reveal the names of the men who conspired to defraud the Illinois Central railroad of more than $1,000,000.

Ostermann did not appear to give testimony before Master in Chancery Mason, although a subpoena had been issued for him.

BLOW AT GRAND TRUNK ROAD.

Michigan Railway Commission Orders Strikebreakers Discharged.

Lansing, Mich., July 30.—The state railway commission, through Chairman Glasgow, has issued an order to Grand Trunk officials commanding them to discharge all nonunion men employed to break the strike who are incompetent.

The order comes as a result of complaints that lives are being endangered as the result of inexperienced men being in charge of passenger trains.

DOWAGER'S LIFE IS SOUGHT.

Milan "Red" Who Confesses Plot, Ends Life in Jail.

Milan, July 30.—An anarchist plot to murder Dowager Queen Margherita was discovered on the tenth anniversary of the assassination of her husband, King Humbert, who was slain at Monza July 29, 1900. The man who was chosen to execute the decision of the revolutionary group gave himself up to the police and, after confessing his part in the plot, killed himself in prison.

SHOOTS TWO WOMEN AND SELF.

George Coyle, Temporarily Insane, Kills His Sweetheart's Landlady.

Toledo, O., July 30.—In a fit of temporary insanity, brought on by jealousy, George Coyle, aged thirty-eight, a bartender, shot and instantly killed Mrs. Edward Hapfinger and seriously wounded his former sweetheart, Mrs. Dora Stoner Wilson, who roomed with Mrs. Hapfinger. Coyle then shot himself through the right temple, inflicting a fatal wound.

TAFT DROPS TRIPS; NEW PLANS.

Senator Crane, as Envoy, to Sound Politics of Country.

Beverly, Mass., July 30.—Senator W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts came to Beverly at the suggestion of President Taft and was requested to take a trip through the west to the Pacific coast. His object is to enable one of the shrewdest political observers of the Republican party to make a confidential report to the president upon political and other conditions of importance to the administration. Senator Crane is probably the closest political adviser the president has.

The president announced a new policy on invitations involving long journeys. All but three invitations and engagements of the president for the period between September 1 and December 1, when congress will meet, have been declined or canceled. He will depart immediately after the November elections for a trip of 20 days to inspect the work on the Panama canal.

AUTO UPSETS; FARMER KILLED.

Somonauk (Ill.) Victim's Wife and Children Escape Injury.

Somonauk, Ill., July 30.—Abel Anderson, a Somonauk farmer, was crushed to death, and Neal Johnson, a Victor farmer, sustained a broken leg and serious internal injuries seven miles north of Ottawa when an automobile owned and driven by Anderson turned turtle. Mrs. Anderson's wife and two children escaped serious injury.

Fresno, Cal., July 30.—Hurled forty feet through the air when their automobile was struck by a train, Mrs. John Z. Kleinmeyer, wife of a wealthy rancher, and her small daughter were killed and Mrs. Kleinmeyer's two sons were injured, one seriously.

SARAH A GREAT GRANDMOTHER.

Bernhardt Says Event is the "Crowning Glory of Her Life."

London, July 30.—Sarah Bernhardt became a great-grandmother when Mrs. Gross, daughter of Miss Bernhardt's son Maurice, gave birth to a daughter. Miss Bernhardt is sixty-six years old.

Miss Bernhardt is rightly proud of being a great-grandmother.

"This is the crowning glory of my life," she said.

To those who take pleasure in watching the face of the heavens, there are presented this month two events of more than usual interest. First is the shower of August shooting stars, that stream of swiftly moving little bodies through which the earth passes at this time each year. Less striking, but of even more interest to the careful observer, is the brightening of the remarkable variable star, Mira, which is to attain its greatest brilliancy this year on the third of the present month.

to claim his attention. As he explores the summer branch of the Milky Way, which is now in its best position for observation, he will encounter many faint, cloud-like nebulae and double stars, and most interesting of all are the large number of star clusters and clouds of stars which he will discover. No one who, sitting at his telescope on a quiet starlight night, examines one of these last wonderful objects and reflects that each of the distant, faintly shining little points of light is a great

THE HEAVENS IN AUGUST.

By Prof. Eric Doolittle of the University of Pennsylvania.

Shower of bluish shooting stars from August tenth to twelfth. Halley's Comet only visible in the largest telescope.

All the stars marked A in Fig. 1 are interesting doubles; the one in the eastern edge of Cygnus is about seventy thousand billion miles away, one of the nearest of all the stars in the heavens. At the points marked

A few of the remarkable star clusters are indicated. At N is the Great Nebula of Andromeda and at M the faint ring Nebula of Lyra. The former is a specially satisfactory object in a small telescope or field glass. The vast elongated cloud, with its central condensation, is believed to be a great solar system in process of formation, but this fantastic system doubtless contains many thousands of stars as much material as ages ago made up the similar nebula from which our own sun, with its attendant worlds, was developed.

THE VARIABLE STAR, MIRAS. Just east of Aquarius is the constellation of the whale, containing one remarkable object which has excited the wonder and speculations of men for many centuries. This is the remarkable variable star Mira, which may easily be found at any hour after midnight by the help of Fig. 2. Ordinarily, this star is of about the ninth magnitude, and therefore only visible in the telescope, but at an irregular interval of about 330 days it begins to brighten, until it may pour out 1500 times as much light as when faintest. Sometimes, when brightest, it has been of the first magnitude, but usually it remains always somewhat fainter than the North Star. For many weeks it has now been growing brighter. It has having found it the observer will occasionally glance at it at intervals of a few days he will see it remain bright for about two weeks and then rapidly fade away, not to again become visible until next June. It is probable that this wonderful are a stream of particles moving in the path of the comet of 1835, and are believed to be merely the scattered material of this comet itself. Each particle as it plows through our air is burned up by the friction developed. These particles are all streaming along in their paths in very parallel lines; the appearance they present to us of darting outward from a fixed point in the sky is merely the effect of perspective.

THE PLANETS. On August 30 Mercury will be at its farthest distance east of the sun, and may be detected shining out low in the sky, almost due west of the observer, for about an hour after sunset.

Mars is also very low down in the west throughout the month, setting a little north of the west-point, less than one hour after sunset. It is now much too near the sun to be satisfactorily observed, though it does not pass that body until September 27. Mercury, as it moves outward from behind the sun, will pass within a minute of Mars on August 5; these two bodies, the one red and the other silver white, would seem almost to touch each other on that date if viewed with the naked eye, but very unfortunately they are very close proximity to the sun will render the observation of this most interesting conjunction almost impossible.

The beautiful planet Jupiter is also rapidly drawing out of the evening sky. On August 1 it may be seen in the west exactly below the interesting double star at A, Fig. 1. Its eastward motion is now so rapid that by the end of the month it will almost reach the star at B. Its moons and bright markings may still be well seen in a small telescope, but by next month this most interesting object can no longer be observed. On August 3 at 8 hours 11 minutes P. M. (Eastern time) one of its moons may be seen to disappear behind the planet, and 8 minutes later another moon emerges from transit. Similarly, on August 4 at 7 hours 50 minutes the inner moon emerges from transit, and 1 hour 4 minutes afterwards the little round black shadow of this moon will be seen to pass off the planet's disc.

The path of the comet during the month is shown in Fig. 1. During this time the distance of this body from us increases from 247,000,000 to 303,000,000 miles. It is now very faint, and only visible in the largest telescopes. ERIC DOOLITTLE.

FLAMES CAUSE GREAT DAMAGE

C. & N. W. SHEDS COMPLETELY DESTROYED THIS MORNING.

STOCKYARDS LOSS IS $6,000

Fire Supposed To Have Been Caused By Sparks From Engines Burns Crops On Five Farms.

Fire early this morning completely destroyed the stock yards and stock sheds of the Chicago and North-Western Ry., located near the Galena St. viaduct, entailing a loss of approximately six thousand dollars. Prompt work by the fire department saved the company's ice houses, some refrigerator cars as well as the viaduct, which were seriously threatened. Seven hogs, owned by W. H. Howard, perished in the flames while several tons of hay belonged to George B. Charlton were also consumed. The origin of the fire is a mystery although it may have been caused by a spark from a passing locomotive or from a match carelessly dropped by a tramp in the yards.

The blaze was discovered by nearby residents shortly after half past three but when the department reached the scene in response to a delayed alarm, the buildings were a sheet of flames and the firemen devoted their efforts to preventing the blaze from spreading. All three of the frame buildings, the heavy scales and runways were entirely destroyed while two refrigerator cars, and the closer of the two ice houses were scorched. The animals confined in the sheds perished long before the fire was discovered.

According to A. L. Hommons, local agent for the road, the loss will aggregate $6,000 as the three buildings burned were practically new. A searching investigation is being made to discover what caused the fire but up to the present time, nothing has been learned.

Crops Are Burned.

Great damage was also done yesterday afternoon by flames which destroyed large quantities of hay and grain on farms adjoining the tracks of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Ry., north of the city. According to reports, about fifty acres of hay and pasture land were burned over and numerous stacks of grain destroyed. It is believed that the fire was caused by sparks from passing locomotives.

The first blaze broke out yesterday morning on the William Hart farm about four miles north of the city when a spark ignited a large stack of hay which was reduced to ashes despite the efforts of the owner. Blazing whips of the hay were blown about and fired twelve acres of stock and grain on the C. B. Sheenaker farm and also a stack of hay on the Ole Knudsen place. Neighboring farmers fought the flames four hours before they were under control and the danger to surrounding fields had passed.

All three of the farmers whose property was damaged live near what is known as the black bridge and they were aided in the work by a gang of working men who returned from fighting further north.

About one o'clock, sparks set fire to a large meadow belonging to J. M. Clark in what is known as the Taylor place. Twenty acres were burned over and it was necessary to call in twenty firemen from the Mackin farm to save the other crops from destruction. At five o'clock, flames caused by sparks supposedly from a passing locomotive, raced through the stubble on the Peter Bern farm near the Milton road and fired four large stacks of oats and barley. Efforts to save the stacked grain were unavailing and it was all the farmers could do to prevent the blaze from spreading to the surrounding fields. Here, as on the Bernard farm, plows were pressed into service and strips of earth turned around the burning places to keep the flames within bounds.

Exact figures on the loss suffered are not obtainable but it is thought the damage done will amount to several thousand dollars.

EDWARD EHRLINGER'S JOURNEY IS ENDED

One-Time Popular Local Business Man Succumbed to Acute Tuberculosis at County Hospital.

Edward G. Ehrlinger of Hanover, one of Janesville's most popular young business men in years gone by, succumbed to acute tuberculosis at the county hospital yesterday afternoon. The deceased was a society man and a famous entertainer when he was employed in one of the local shoe stores about a decade and a half ago and a conspicuous figure in all the balls and amateur theatricals of that day and generation. The misfortunes which came to him in later years were a source of deep regret to all of his old-time associates and friends.

SALVATION ARMY SEEKING FOR AID

The Formal Dedication of their Citadel Comes Tomorrow Afternoon At Their New Hall.

Today was the day on which the Salvation Army sought to increase its building fund by the sale of post cards of the building on the streets of the city, and Captain and Mrs. Plonk and their aides have been very busy all day. No fixed sum is charged for the cards, each person giving what he desires for the good of the cause, but the Army is meeting with a generous response in its appeal and the contributions in some cases have been quite large. It is not yet known what the proceeds of the day's work will be but it is expected and hoped that they will be of considerable volume.

Dedication of Building.
The dedication of the new citadel of the Salvation Army will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The building has been in the hands of painters, and contractors for several weeks past, but all of their work is completed and the structure is ready for the official opening. Col. Marshall and Major Boyd of the Salvation Army of Minneapolis arrived yesterday and Major Morton has been here several days to take part in the exercises tomorrow. The exercises begin with flag raising service outside the building at which Capt. of Schools, L. C. Howell will preside. At three o'clock the building will be officially opened by Major W. F. SEEKS LOCATION FOR BIG FACTORY

STEVENSON UNDERWEAR COMPANY OF SOUTH BEND INDIANA MAY CHOOSE JANESVILLE

IS INSPECTING JANESVILLE

Member of the Firm Visits This City To Look Over Possible Site For Location and General Conditions.

L. C. Stevenson of the Stevenson Underwear Company of South Bend Indiana is in the city today inspecting possible sites for the establishment of a large factory in Janesville. Secretary De Armand of the Industrial and Commercial Club has shown Mr. Stevenson several desirable sites in the city and the company will take the matter under consideration before making any definite decision. Three sites are under consideration as possible locations for the plant which employs a large force.

Should the company decide upon Janesville their proposed factory would cover some three acres and would employ several hundred hands. The company is one of the largest in the country and it would be a valuable addition to Janesville industries if it could be established here.

Mr. Stevenson picked Janesville as one of the three sites to be investigated after considerable deliberation and it is the direct result of the recently organized Industrial and Commercial club that it has been accomplished.

SCISSORS GUIDE

Enables Tailor or Seamstress to Cut Cloth With Accuracy.

A much-needed article in the scissors guide, developed by two Nebraska men and shown in the cut. With it cloth can be cut with perfect accuracy without being marked beforehand, something which could not be done before. The guide is composed of a metal rule with a longitudinal slot and a groove running at right angles to it at one end and adapted to hold the lower blade of the shears. A plate with projections to catch the end of a piece of cloth is morbidly mounted inside the rule. Suppose, for instance, it is designed to cut a strip a foot wide off the end of a piece of goods. The plate that holds the edge of the cloth is adjusted to within 1/2 inches of the shears and held there by a thumb screw. The cloth is then slipped into the clips of the plate and the scissors will cut a perfectly straight line away a foot from the edge without any of the difficulty such an operation usually entails. Only those who have tried to cut a straight line in cloth without a guide know how hard it is.

HAIR-WAVING DEVICE

No Danger of Hair Being Scorched With This Apparatus.

A hair-waving apparatus which eliminates the danger of burning or scorching the hair has been invented by a New York man. The curlier part of the device is a perforated metal tube about which the hair is curled. After this an asbestos tube is fitted over the curlier as a protection to the hair, and an electric drier applied over the asbestos tube. Just enough heat comes through to dry and curl the hair without scorching or burning it in any way and the wave thus produced is much more natural than the stiff, crinkly one produced by many other waving apparatuses. Usually the wave is made by means of an iron which has no means of protecting the hair from the heat, and even the most expert coiffure artist will sometimes leave evidence of his or her work that are not desirable. A woman can wave her own hair with this device as who need not have eyes in the back of her head to watch out for a possible scorching.

GRANDPA SCATTERGOOD.

GRANDPA SCATTERGOOD.

A convenient type of wash pall has been invented by a New York man. It is particularly convenient for use in flats or other places where space is at a premium, for it is both pall and washboard combined. As seen in the illustration, one side of the pall is flattened. There are grooves along this side and into these grooves a washboard slides. The board can remain there without interfering with the use of the pall for other purposes than washing clothing, but if used in it can easily be slipped out. Such a recep-table will save a great deal of space, as it saves not only the room taken up by a separate washboard, which is considerable, but that which otherwise would be taken up by a tub, or ordinarily a washboard cannot be used conveniently in a bucket, having a somewhat top-heavy effect. In this device, the washboard being fastened to the pall, the whole stands firmly under the most vigorous rubbing and will not easily upset.

Advertising Ideas

By GEORGE S. BANTA

Advertising Not a Gold Brick

Many merchants, who have never given the matter of advertising any consideration, harbor the impression that it is something in the nature of a gold brick. They habitually avoid advertising solicitors and close their ears to advertising suggestions of all kinds. If finally cornered and they contract for a few inches they feel that they have done so much for charity.

There is a well-founded basis for this state of facts. The public mind is suspicious of a "gold mine" proposition of any kind. It is an acknowledged fact that fortunes have been made in mining and because of this reputation it was easy for the unscrupulous to take advantage of the situation and pass off worthless schemes. So people have heard how W. L. Douglass, has, by advertising, built up one of the leading shoe businesses in America. They have heard of the fortune amassed by John Wanamaker, a pioneer in advertising, as well as others whose fame has been secured in this way.

Just as a good gold mine today can be worked with profit in spite of the worthless hillside across the valley which may be sold to the "easy" one, so right advertising will pay. There is a fascination to it—this effort to influence the public to buy a certain commodity at a certain place. It is a subtle thing, something worthy of study from the theoretical standpoint of psychology, but its charm to the business man lies in the fact that it makes two dollars grow where one grew before.

THE "OVERLAND"
Most for the Money

Over $3,000,000 has been invested to make Overland cars economically. The makers devote a whole factory to one model alone. By labor saving machinery and multiplied output they have cut the cost 20 per cent in the past year alone.
A 25-horse power Overland, with 102 inch wheel base now sells for $1,000. A 40 horse power Overland, with 112 inch wheel base sells for $1,250 with single rumble seat. The finest of the Overlands—called the Marlon Overland—sells for $1,850. All prices include gas lamps and magneto.
No smaller maker with less modern machinery can begin to give what the Overland gives for the money.
We invite you to come and see these cars—the cars which have captured the country. You will agree with the rest in regarding the Overlands the most desirable cars made.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS, and the success of the Janesville Business College has been firmly established by the SUCCESS of the many ambitious intelligent young people who cast their lots with us during the past year.

These young men and women were really desirous of securing the BEST BUSINESS EDUCATION to be had and were eager to make a thorough, painstaking investigation in order to determine where it was to be secured. They did not depend so much on what they saw in our advertising matter as on what they learned by talking with people who work in the different offices in town, finding who were really holding the GOOD positions and what systems they were holding them with.

They found that our students were holding Bookkeeping and Stenographic positions and not working behind the counter or driving a delivery wagon.

They visited our school and had heart to heart talks with our teachers, become acquainted with their personalities and past records, learned from direct contact with the men what they might expect if they attended our school.

And They Attended!

They learned that while it took a little more time to finish the courses in our school, than other schools CLAIMED it took to complete their courses, there was a great deal MORE to our courses; and as a result of the thorough instruction and actual practice given in our they are now holding first class positions, not second or third grade positions.

The advantages offered by our system of inter-communication business practice, CAN NOT BE SECURED IN ANY OTHER SCHOOL. This feature alone is worth a great deal. It is a step in ADVANCE in the field of business education.

We Teach Gregg Shorthand

Which is taught in more schools than any other three systems combined, and which won first, second and third prizes in the world's official speed contest at Washington, D. C.

We Teach Twentieth Century Bookkeeping

Which is as up to date as the name implies. It is simple and practical. There is no wasted time. It is right to the point, teaching the fundamental as no other system does.

It is easy enough to talk about what you can do, but most people like to be shown. We can show you. Visit our school, examine all of its departments, find out for yourself just how the work is carried on. Go through our modern offices. Examine the books, learn about the advantages offered by our inter-communication system of business practice, and find out just how it is operated. Make us show you in every respect that what we state is true. We welcome the test today.

Nearly every business man thinks his methods are a little better than any other. Otherwise, he would change them. A man may be honest in his belief and still be mistaken. Carefully consider every statement we make. Analyze it, investigate. Apply any test you wish. Let us give you the names of the people whom we have placed in positions, also the positions in which they are placed. Make your investigation thorough and complete.

"YOU'LL SUCCEED IN JANESVILLE."

BEWARE OF THE SCHOOL
THAT HAS TO GUARANTEE POSITIONS.

In order to get business. A little reasoning will tell you that no school can promiscuously guarantee positions. There is always a loophole in that guarantee. Look for it! Few schools find it necessary to resort to this method of getting business and no good school will do it. Look for the catch in that guarantee.

VETERANS TO GREET

GENERAL E. S. BRAGG

Surviving Members of Twelfth Wisconsin Battery Will Meet With Gen. Bragg on Tuesday.

On Tuesday, July 2, at the home of General Edward S. Bragg, one of the commanders of the famous "Iron Brigade" of Wisconsin, during the Civil war, a reunion of the survivors of the Twelfth Wisconsin Battery, light artillery, will be held. The members of the battery, seventy of whom were originally enlisted in Janesville, will stop over in Fond du Lac, between trains, to greet the aged commander, and then continue on their way to Stevens Point where the reunion of the 18th Wisconsin Regiment Infantry Veterans Volunteers and the 12th Battery will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 2, 3, and 4. The veterans of the 12th Battery will leave here on Tuesday morning at 6:50 on the Northwestern road and arriving in Fond du Lac they will go to the home of General Bragg at eleven o'clock to pay their respects. The veterans will have but a few hours with the general as they will leave at two o'clock for Stevens Point.

A short time ago a number of the members of the Twelfth Battery went to the home of the commander, and although he was very sick, he was able to sit in the shaded porch and meet some of his friends. Arrangements were then made for another visit to the general, the date being settled on as next Tuesday.

E. G. Hartwig, who recruited a portion of the Twelfth Battery in Janesville in 1862, sends out the following circular letter to his comrades relative to the proposed visit.

Conrade:

A few of the representatives of the Twelfth Wisconsin Battery, L. A. called at the home of General Edward S. Bragg, in Fond du Lac, quite recently to arrange for another call on the general in the near future, he being very sick, and high unto death. His partial recovery enabled him to leave his bed and enjoy sitting in the shaded porch and to the honor of opportunity to meet and greet the illustrious chieftain, the hero of many great battles of the Civil war, and among the foremost of commanders at the outset, and to the close of the greatest conflict ever known. The general received the representatives with great cordiality, after having been introduced by his venerable and faithful wife. We found him much emaciated in body, but strong in mind, and having a clear, good voice, with good memory and clear conversational qualities, which was deeply interesting in camp stories, discipline of troops, etc., all of which made his active campaign a signal success.

As the party left his pleasant home the general closed the interview by saying: "I always esteem it a pleasure to meet the soldiers and friends, and will gladly welcome all at my home on the occasion you mention, viz: Tuesday next, August 2nd, providing always, that I am not ordered to cross over the great river before that time."

The route of the Janesville contingent, with their wives and friends, who have decided to accompany the 12th Wisconsin Battery boys to Stevens Point, via Fond du Lac, at their reunion and campfire with the 18th Wisconsin Regiment Infantry Veterans Volunteers, August 2, 3 and 4, will be as follows: Leave Janesville Tuesday, August 2nd at 6:50 a. m. on the C. & N. W. railway, arriving in Fond du Lac at 9:40 a. m. Reception by General Bragg, at his home in Fond du Lac, at 11 a. m. Leave Fond du Lac on the Wisconsin Central railway at 2 p. m., arriving at Stevens Point at 4:48 p. m.

And Those That Know Gay That Tobacco Crop Has Gone Backward During Week.

The growing tobacco crop is still held tightly in the grip of the long continued drought, says the Tobacco Reporter, only a few local showers having brought temporary relief since last report. People familiar with the growing districts assert that the crop has gone backward during the week past, as many of the early fields have withered and show buds, while the later tobacco has been badly pinched by the hot, drying winds. Neither can the prospects improve while the sky remains cloudless. At the present writing it is the poorest show for a crop the state has seen in many years on August 1st.

A mid-summer dullness pervades the cured leaf market everywhere and sales among the local dealers are away below the normal figures even in small quantities.

Some work is yet to be done in picking last season's crop by two or three firms, and stemming is being carried on quite extensively.

The shipments out of storage reach 1193 cases for the week.

The almost unprecedented drought which has affected the northwest has in the main continued for another week. A few local showers have fallen in the tobacco growing sections, but have proven but little lasting good to the crop. These rains have been a great deal like pouring water on a red hot stove—producing a little sizzle and puff of steam, and that was all. Nothing but general rains of long hours duration will put the soil back again into normal conditions for maturing the crop. The ground is as dry as an ash heap to the depth of two or three feet, and the hot, drying winds sucking up every bit of moisture that can be attracted to the surface. Under such conditions of soil it is impossible for crops to make much progress and they cannot continue long with much expectation of harvest.

WISDOMS

A Physician on Food.

A physician out in Oregon has views about food. He says:

"I have always believed that the duty of the physician does not cease with treating the sick, but that we owe it to humanity to teach them how to protect their health especially by hygienic and dietetic laws."

"With such a feeling as to my duty I take great pleasure in saying to the public that in my own experience and also from personal observation I have found no food to equal Grape-Nuts and that I find there is almost no limit to the good benefit this food will bring when used in all cases of sickness and convalescence."

"It is my experience that no physical condition forbids the use of Grape-Nuts. To persons in health there is nothing so nourishing and acceptable to the stomach especially at breakfast to start the machinery of the human system on the day's work. In cases of indigestion I know that a complete breakfast can be made of Grape-Nuts and cream and I think it is necessary not to overload the stomach at the morning meal. I also know the great value of Grape-Nuts when the stomach is too weak to digest other food."

"This is written after an experience of more than 20 years treating all manner of chronic and acute diseases, and the letter is written voluntarily on my part without any request for it."

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason"

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

RINGLING BROS. COMING.

World's Greatest Circus Soon to Visit Janesville.

With an entirely new outfit and the hearty endorsement of New York City to its credit, Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest show will, on Saturday, Aug. 13, give two performances at Janesville.

This is the twenty-seventh year of the Ringling Brothers' showmen. On April 3, 1883, they gave their first performance in the public park of their native city, Baraboo, Wis. The tent was homemade. The seat blankets were borrowed from a neighboring lumber yard. The boys made their own fire properties and gave the performance. They had but one horse. They all doubled in brass. It would be impossible to begin in a smaller way. They had the right stuff in them and they did not know there was such a word in the dictionary as "fail."

During their first summer they did not go many miles from Baraboo. They had to travel entirely by wagon, and their one horse was not equal to the task of a long tour. The following season they had three horses, and sometimes showed as far away from their home town as a hundred miles. Today their one horse is supplanted by a train over one mile in length. In a single season they often go from Maine to California and from Canada to Mexico. Their history between that one horse and their 650 horses of today reads like a tale from the Arabian Nights.

There are five brothers in the firm. Al Ringling is the equestrian director. No circus director or stage manager in the world can equal him in the art of spectacular groupings or in giving style and speed to a performance. Charles Ringling is at the head of the pictorial advertising. Three special cars, traveling ahead of the show, do this work. Each car has a force of twenty-five advertisers and billposters. Otto Ringling is the financial director. He is a marvel of system and knows how to handle big things with nerve and sure aim. John Ringling is the ruler of the show. He knows every city and town in the country and is well posted on agricultural and mercantile conditions. Alfred T. Ringling heads the bureau of publication. Every editor and important newspaper and magazine man in the United States knows him.

They were all attired in clean clothes which made them look as though they had sprung from a band box and presented a martial appearance as they stepped from the train. An extra passenger coach was attached to the regular train for the accommodation of the company.

Several of the guards were confined to the hospital during their stay at camp. The officers are well pleased with the fine appearance which the company made.

They will be gray in color with green trimmings and black stockings and the word "Monroe" will appear in white letters down one side of the front of the shirt.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, July 20, 1870.—Baseball.—The Mutuals started on their Northern tour Thursday night, accompanied by several men of the club, and were met at Minnesota Junction by a delegation of the Eureka, who had generously provided conveyances for the boys to travel in and return. The Mutuals made their appearance on the field promptly at 1:30 o'clock. About 250 persons had assembled to witness the game. Mr. F. L. Phillips of Fox Lake was selected as umpire and everything being in readiness, the game was called at 2:30. The Mutuals winning the toss sent their opponents to bat. The first four strikes got bases on called balls, the umpire being very strict in regard to calling balls, for which he is deserving of much credit. The game for three or four innings was evenly contested, when the Mutuals, by superior batting, gained the lead, and retained it throughout the game, defeating the Eureka by a score of 25 to 19. The batting of the Mutuals was the best ever shown by them. But for the high grass in the field they would have gained several home runs. The Mutuals play the Fountain City Club at Fond du Lac, today, and possibly the Everette, of Oshkosh, on Monday.

The water was let into the raceway today, so that the Wooden mill of Payne, Hastings & Co., will hereafter have its supply of power. The repairs have been made under the supervision of Mr. J. C. Milhous at a cost of about $4,000, and when all is completed the work will be sufficiently substantial to withstand any floods which the future may bring us.

The Ticklemouse

—and his Sleepyland Adventures
By Roy Rutheford Bailey with Davy and Dorfy

The Magic Swing

"WHAT!" exclaimed the Ticklemouse, his sharp eyes twinkling as he heard Davy's plan. "Go for a whaling cruise with my poor old turtle-bitten tail in a sling? Some other night, you dear little rascal!"

"It's your turn to suggest something," he said to Dorfy. "And please make it something that doesn't mean a long trip, for I do hate to say no to the Sleepyland Twins!"

"We've got a nice new swing," said the little girl, shyly. "We could let it high enough from the ground so it wouldn't let your turtle-bitten tail strike, couldn't we?"

"Why, of course!" cried the Mouse, heartily. "Come along, everybody. Willy, you just wish Teddy away—he'll enjoy this, I'm sure." And they skipped across the yard to the new swing down a silvery moonbeam and awing.

"Dorfy's first," said Willy, with a suspicious flicker in his eye.

"No, let's let Mr. Ticklemouse have his first, 'cause he's hurt, you know," said Dorfy, with a mischievous grin.

"Very kind of you, Dorfy, but about me? That old snapping turtle chewed my leg half off!"

"Grown and showed where the turtle's wicked jaws had taken off the leg," said Dorfy.

"Your wound didn't bleed anything but sawdust, and his blood real blood. I want him to have his first turn, Teddy."

"Enough of this," said the Mouse, brightly. "Into the swing with you, brightly."

Wishingmouse had disappeared. Nobody saw him climb the big oak tree, for he was careful to slip around to the other side of the trunk. Unseen by anybody, he crawled out on the limb that held the swing and gently tickled the flying ropes. The ropes began to stretch.

Then he tickled the tree itself, and snickered as it raised its leafy head higher and higher, till its branches rubbed the edges of the fleecy night clouds. Davy and Teddy were taking turns swinging Dorfy, while the Ticklemouse was reading a tiny book of poems he had taken from his pocket.

Suddenly he looked up—and rubbed his eyes. Where was Dorfy? Davy cried out with fear when the swing-board came back, empty, and the three gazed aloft with frightened eyes. Willy had made the swing so lofty that she had swung clear up out of sight.

"Don't look so scared!" It was Willy's laughing voice from the treetop. "I just thought she'd like a visit with Pillywinkles the cloud rider, so I sent her flying up into the clouds. It's waiting a moonbeam-ropes now, Uncle Tick, for her to slide down on, and she'll be back in a jiffy. Promise not to give me a cany and I'll get Pilly to slide down with her!"

Dorfy. Up-p-p you go—don't kick the leaves off the treetops, now!" and he gave her a quick, strong push that sent her spinning into the air, squealing with delight.

It is a curious idea of the times that children nowadays show a remarkable interest in money. They want to know the cost of objects, they love to play with coins, and money seems to be the present 'they prefer.'—Zeitungs, Vienna.

Meteors Add to Earth's Weight.

The meteors which fall upon the earth in vast numbers every year add their weight to the earth. Thus the earth is increasing a minute quantity in weight each year, but not enough to be perceptible in thousands of years. Opening of Round Lake Country

Brings Rush of Landseekers.

The rush to the Round Lake Country of Wisconsin, where 150,000 acres of the farm land in Sawyer County have been released to settlement by the big lumber interests, promises to become a veritable stampede of eager homeseekers.

Settlers in the Middle and Southern States have come to realize that the government reports have exaggerated the "cold winter" humbug by establishing the fact that the Wisconsin climate is the most desirable in the United States.

The average annual temperature in the United States is shown by these official figures: St. Paul, 42 deg.; Leavenworth, Kan., 51 deg.; St. Louis, 52 deg.; Indianapolis, 51 deg.; Los Angeles, 57 deg.; Austin, Tex., 67 deg. The American Immigration Co. of Chippewa Falls, Wis., is selling this vast body of rich land at $5.00 to $20.00 per acre.

A man with a few hundred dollars can secure title to his farm and pay the balance in live or ten annual installments, out of the crops. For books, maps and full particulars address:

When Europe Shivered.

The winter of 1858 was very mild in the United States, but particularly severe in Europe. For the first time in the nineteenth century the river Po was frozen over at Ferrara, permitting for a long time the constant passage of man and beast. At Constantinople snow fell constantly for 15 days. The snow extended to Smyrna, the adjacent districts of Asia Minor, and the Greek islands were clothed in white.
